Prices include the extra fees of port taxes and government fees. They have done away with the fuel surcharge as long as crude oil is selling below $70 a barrel. (If the price of oil skyrockets again they could charge for that - it was approximately $9 a day last year.)

In Maui and Kauai, you can come and go as you please until 1 hour before ship leaves port. Then all passengers need to be on board. They will post that time on a sign near the plank where you get on and off the ship.

Drinks can become expensive. Soft drinks usually are $4 and alcohol is usually $6 and up. They will offer a soft drink card for fountain drinks to purchase about $30 a week. They will also have packages to sell from $30 per person day to $46 per person per day.

For the cruise you are allowed 4 pieces of luggage per person maximum rate of each piece of 50 pounds. However, the airlines now charge $15 one way for 1st piece of luggage and $25 one way for 2nd piece and $100 one way for 3rd piece each piece maximum weight of 40-50 pounds each depending on airline. A carry on is still allowed of maximum weight of 20 pounds. Of course, this could all change by the time you travel but that is what it is today as a guideline.
